*ABINGTON,
W. BRIDGEWATER, MASSACHUSETTS*

*For two years Massasoit has formed the nucleus of our lives.
From her guidance we have molded the designs of our personalities . . .
our attitudes . . . our lives.*

The patterns of our lives are a kaleidoscope of movement, change and expansion

*Yearly these patterns have shifted and assumed varied forms as we have progressed,
as we have learned,
as we have deepened our understanding.*

Courses, professors, music, sports, and mixers — all have contributed a piece to the design.

*Our design at Massasoit has been based on change—
changes in attitudes, friends, professors.*

The change has been gradual, perhaps imperceptible; but we have changed. Change is life and what Massasoit has given us is a taste of this life.

Now it is time to leave, to become planners of the far larger design of society.

*Our individual designs will continue to shift as we go our separate ways,
on for higher degrees . . . jobs . . .
marriage*

But always we will have within us the reflections of designs we acquired at Massasoit Community College.

Massasoit

The namesake of this college, Massasoit, was born within the present boundries of Massachusetts in 1580. His tribe, the Wampanoags, were located throughout the regions of Bristol, Rhode Island, and Massachusetts. The Wampanoags, who had at one time numbered several thousand, had almost been destroyed by an epidemic just before the arrival of the "Mayflower."

In March of 1621, an Indian appeared in Plymouth, and surprised the Pilgrims by speaking to them in English. He was Samoset, and had come to arrange a meeting between the Governor of Plymouth, William Bradford, and the Chief of the Wampanoags, Massasoit. A week later a treaty of peace was signed by the two men, a treaty which held without violation for fifty-four years.

In 1623, Massasoit became ill and was visited by Edward Winslow who effected a cure. In return, Massasoit revealed that a neighboring tribe was to make an attack on the white men.

All through his reign as chief, Massasoit made a practice of living in harmony with the colonists. A writer of the period said of him:

"He was a chief renowned more in peace than war, and was, as long as he lived, a friend to the English, even as they committed repeated usurpations upon his land and liberties."

Little is known about the chief from 1649, when he sold the site of Duxbury to the English, until his death in 1662.

Dedication

Massasoit is a young school, this creates many exciting opportunities. One of these opportunities is that the students give birth to what will become the traditions of Massasoit.

Each year the yearbook should be dedicated to the professor who has done the most to help the students of the college.

The 1969 yearbook staff proudly dedicates Legend '69 to Professor John D. McPeake, Massasoit's director of student activities.

This year Bob Cugno was the most predominant figure in the Journalism section of our student activities. His controversial editorials stirred up much discussion, and raised many questions in the minds of the students.

Recognition must also be given to two others on the Quill staff, Bob Hancock and Fred Hoyle, who gave up considerable time for the newspaper.

Third Annual Massasoit Day Festivities

Tickets for the Massasoit Day Concert featuring the Charles River Valley Boys and Dayle Stanley are available through the Director of Student Activities Office.

New Massa

Many of the students at M.C.C. are well aware of the fact that a new Massasoit building and campus is in the making. There are many more however, who know little or nothing about this new school other than its location. After both an interesting and informative interview with Dr. Musselman and Dean Simmons, many facts about the new school were brought to light.

The new school was first conceived by civic leaders in Brockton about six years ago. The school will be on a hundred-acre lot in Brockton, and will house 2500 full-time day students. With the new facilities go new programs; and the Brockton campus will offer a varied number of them. For example commercial art, dental hygiene, marine biology, data processing and a very interesting course in environmental science, dealing with the ghastly problems we see increasing every day — air pollution (cough, cough) and waste products. With such tempting new programs we all may just quit now and re-enter in September 1970 (Proposed date school will be ready).

Certainly though, the new Massasoit in Brockton will be a credit not only to the community and its future students, but to us — the future alumni.

Lounge Addition

An abstract painting was loaned to Massasoit by Paul Elliott-Smith of N.Y. City. Mister Elliott-Smith is the brother of Massa's own T. P. Elliott-Smith. It will be unveiled on Massasoit Day. The paper guarantees you will not believe your eyes. The painting will be hung in the student lounge.

Student Activities Committee

The Student Activities Committee meets every Thursday in the Student Activities Office. The chairman is James Walker. The five members at large are: John Robert Cugno, John Olson, Debby Pollseno, John Crelease and Gary Melford.

The function of this committee is to assist the students in organizing a chartered club or activity. This committee has the authority to request that an organization be disbanded for failure to comply with the rules set up by the student association. The members of the Student Activities Committee request the cooperation of all clubs and activities.

Sex on Campus

The Massasoit Chapter of the National Newman Club was honored on November 5, with a visit from Rev. Fr. Charles Poirier OSB, a Benedictine Monk. Fr. Poirier spoke to a large number of students, both freshmen and sophomores, on a timely subject, "Sex on the College Campus." He spoke for the young people of today, giving both sides of this pressing religious, moral, and social problem. His approach was not one of the self-righteous observer, but rather as an interested individual involved in helping young people solve the problems facing them. The reaction to Fr. Poirier's talk was very favorable and the officers of the Newman Club hope that this good showing will continue when future speakers are invited. They are grateful to Fr. Poirier for coming to the campus, and hope that with this fine beginning the Newman Club at Massasoit may grow in size and success.

Massasoit Community College was named in honor of the chief sachem of the Wampanoag Indians at the time of pilgrims landing at Plymouth, Chief Massasoit. It was through one of his aids, Squanto, that these first settlers learned of Massasoit's friendliness and willingness to help them. And it was with great respect for this man that the first class at Massasoit established the tradition of the annual Massasoit Day festivities. These festivities are held each year on the Wednesday preceeding Thanksgiving which, this year will be on November 27.

On Tuesday night, November 26, there will be a dinner-dance at the South Weymouth Naval Air Station for faculty, administration, alumni, and the advisory board. For the students there will be a mixer at the main campus of the college.

Massasoit Day itself will begin with the cancellation of classes at 9:30 a.m. The festivities will begin with a formal ceremony at 10 o'clock at which time Dr. Musselman, president of the college; Dr. Carchidi and Mrs. Wheately, chairman and co-chairman of the advisory board respectively; Bob Briana president of the class of 1969; and Rick Markt, president of the class of 1969 will engage in the presentation of a "Framed Deed" to the site of the new property for Massasoit Community College. This will be followed by the presentation of Chief Massasoit and Miss Massasoit.

This year's program will also consist of a light operetta and a jazz presentation under the direction of Miss La Dolce. Other activities will include a tug of war between the freshman and the sophomores and alumni as well as a basketball game between students and faculty. A free Buffet will be held in the gym at the main campus at 12:30.

The day's festivities will close with a concert presented at the North Abington campus auditorium at 8:00 P.M. featuring the Charles River Valley Boys and Dale Stanley, one of Boston's most outstanding folk singers. Tickets for the concert are $2.00 reserved and $2.50 at the door. Reserved tickets are available through the director of student activities office.

Over the past two years, Massasoit Day has come to mean a lot to the school and it is sincerely wished that, through the active participation of all the students, this day can come to mean even more to the students of the future. Massasoit Community College may be young but traditions have already been established.

A complete schedule of all activities to take place on this the third annual Massasoit Day follows:

Vietnam Mail Call

Christmas will be here soon. For those of us at home, Christmas will be a season for vacation, shopping, and family get-togethers. But what about our servicemen who are stationed overseas? There won't be any family reunions or Christmas trees for them. Of course, that doesn't mean that we can't bring a little bit of home to them. And that is the purpose of the "Vietnam Mail Call." It is up to those of us at home to let the G.I.s know that we have not forgotten them. We can all do this by contributing to The Mail Call. All we ask you to do is place a signed Christmas card in an envelope and mark it, "for a G.I." No stamp is necessary. There are deposit boxes for these in the lounge, cafeteria, and other areas of the school. We ask for as many cards from students of both campuses as you care to contribute. If you choose to include your own name and address, the G.I. who receives your card may wish to write a thank you. Your cards will be sent to Vietnam free of charge by the U.S.O. This is a nation-wide program being sponsored at our college by the Massasoit Chapter of the Newman Club. Please try to contribute at least one Christmas card. Think how you would feel if you were spending Christmas in a jungle thousands of miles away from your home and family. Wouldn't you appreciate some extra mail, especially at Christmas time?

Sultry Poetess at Massa

On Wednesday, November 6, twenty-five to thirty people sat in chair-decks circled around a gaunt but attractive woman in her 40's, Mrs. Anne Sexton.

Mrs. Sexton lounged gracefully in an arm chair with a cigarette hanging from her left hand and a coffee table beside her in front of the gym stage.

A poetess had come to Massasoit. Mrs. Sexton introduced her first poem, "Her Kind", as one that had caused a very proper Bostonian walkout of a reading. The poem was a series of images describing hard, alienated, and slightly evil women, all of whom Mrs. Sexton admitted being part. From a slightly decadent mood she shifted to one of pain and anguish with a poem on her father's funeral.

"The Truth The Dead Know", discussed the weirdness and hopelessness with which she approached her father's funeral; it having come quickly after the death of one of her daughters and her mother. In it she says, "I'm tired of being brave."

Continuing to shift moods she read "Youth". She prefaced it by
